

This group consists of a small group of old-timers that want things to remain as they are. It does nothing to advance ham radio. Ham radio must change to survive in todays high tech. world.